

Experience

Foundation

Migun was founded on the philosophy of taking responsibility for people's health. By originating the concept of combining the principles of Eastern medicine with Western technology, we have made it our mission to become the leader in manufacturing health-enhancement products.

- Migun utilizes the profound properties of the sun's energy through far infrared heat to enhance circulation and detoxification at the cellular level. Infrared light accounts for over half of the energy emitted by the sun. The remaining energy is emitted in the form of visible light.

The result is the development of the most innovative alternative health care products, which can be used by a wide variety of people. Our products promote balance and harmony in the whole body, thus allowing the body its full potential to heal itself.

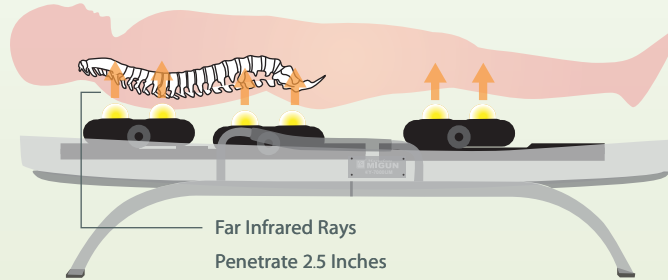

- The human body is nourished directly by the stimulation of sunlight. Far infrared heat is an essential energy source for both plant and human life. It is this energy that ripens fruit, reduces acidity, and heals the body and mind.

In taking responsibility for people's health, we have set up demonstration centers all over the world where people can experience our amazing products on a free trial basis. At Migun, we understand that many people have trouble believing something is "free". Rest assured that all we ask for the free use of our centers is that you share your Beautiful Health experience with your friends and family.

Philosophy

Back 2 Back

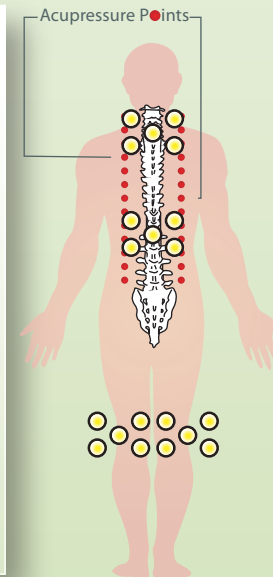

Everyday, people use their backs to support the weight of their body. This results in tremendous wear and tear, adversely affecting the vertebrae, organs, and your body's "chi". Without renewal through direct intervention, this deteriorating effect will continue.

Over the last decade, complementary medicine's popularity has increased dramatically in North America. This growing trend in the use of alternative medicine is finding its way into the mainstream health care industry.

This is where Migun steps in: blending five thousand years of Eastern medical knowledge, and the technological advances of Western science,

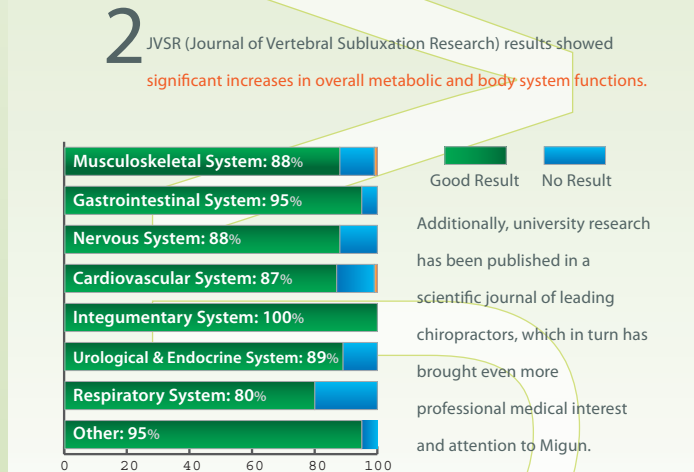

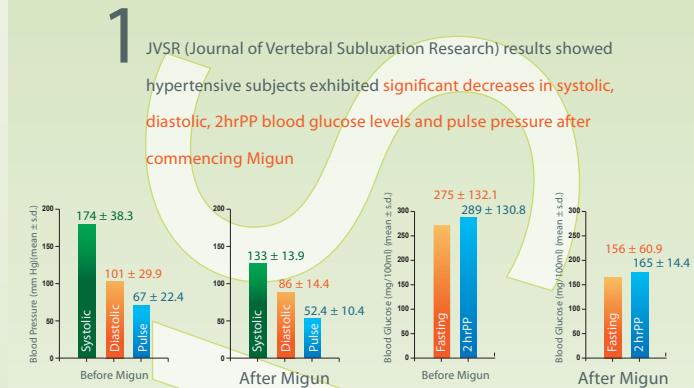

- Acupuncture points are the specific sites where the "Chi" of the organs are transported to the body's surface through the meridians. Each point has a different function, affecting the organs that are connected to that particular meridian. A filiform needle is inserted into a point. This stimulates the pathway between the point and its relevant organs, activating our own body's balancing system. Any blocked meridian will cause discomfort or pain in that area.

Studies

Beautiful Health

Ongoing clinical studies at the University of California, Irvine, have established the full range of health benefits created by Migun's unique process. These clinical study results show significant change and positive effects in the overall physical health of users including the musculoskeletal, gastrointestinal, nervous, and cardiovascular systems. There has also been marked improvement in the conditions of Hypertension and Type II Diabetes.

(Source: J. Vertebral Subluxation, 2003) *The Claims and results have not been examined or reviewed by the FDA.